LOCAL BRIEFS.

The weather continues quite disagreeable.

The Newbern corn market was quite active on Monday, with sales at 80 cents.

The NEWS sustained an accident yesterday morning in the shape of a pie form, but no mail was lost and "nobody hurt."

Raleigh can now boast of two good candy manufacturers, those of the Messrs. Royster Brothers and Mr. R. H. Bradley.

Subscribe to the RALEIGH NEWS, the liveliest paper in the State. The people's favorite and the opponent of一切.

We are requested by "Many Voters" to say that the name of Julius Lewis would be most acceptable upon the Aldermen ticket for Fifth Ward.

Messrs. Wynne, Yaney & Co. yesterday sold to the Committee for the colored people a good pair of horses for $30, to be used with the new horse which they are about purchasing.

We are requested by "Many Voters" to say that the name of Julius Lewis would be most acceptable upon the Aldermen ticket for Fifth Ward.

Mr. W. W. Dunn, the agent for the colored people a good pair of horses for $30, to be used with the new horse which they are about purchasing.

All brands of smoking tobacco, of the best quality—all old summer work—can be bought at the lowest practical figures of S. A. Parham (formerly with C. F. Reams) at the store of Z. W. Gill, Market Square.

Mrs. Anna Bentz's Female Minstrels are listed for Raleigh on the 10th of April. The Business Agent was in the city yesterday effecting his arrangements. This is the original company from Robinson's Hall, New York, having performed there seven months.

The Democratic-Conservative voters of Third and Fifth Wards will remember that the ticket of Aldermen for Fifth Ward will be nominated to-night. The meeting for First Ward will be held at the Court-house, and for Fifth Ward at Hargett Street Schoolhouse.

Miss Osborne will commence her select school for young ladies at Mr. Linchein's, near Lovejoy Academy, to-morrow, the first day of April. Miss O. will teach almost anything desired in the education or accomplishment of young ladies, and comes into our midst well recommended.

The work on the government building is not suspended, though passer-by might infer that the appropriations had dried up. The work of stone cutting is still at the same point, and will be continued as at first.

In a short time the progress of the work will become very apparent, and Fayetteville street will be graced with another imposing edifice.

In fact, it is the meilleur art of usefulness, and costs a small sum of $5,000 for you to buy.

For the next few days we say for you to buy.

The office fronts immediately upon Fayetteville street, adjoining the office of Col. Walter Clark, and both ladies and gentlemen are invited to call and look at this ingenious and serviceable piece of mechanism.

To our readers, we say go to the front office in the Yarborough, opposite the post-office, and examine the merits of that little piece of mechanism.

ANOTHER SIGN.

The Landmark says the British steamer San Marcos was cleared from Norfolk on Saturday with a cargo of 3,368 bales of cotton for Liverpool. This is additional evidence of the growing importance of Norfolk as a direct shipping point, and now confirmation to the hope that the South is cutting loose from its dependence upon New York.

The Democratic press may have little to say about the vote of Judge Christian in sustainment of the President's Louisiana policy. They were silent from the extremity of disgust that a man apparently so honest and candid should have degraded himself by so base an act of subserviency as the endorsement of acts which reason, conscience and knowledge had taught him to be wrong and unfeachable. There is little hope for the Republic when the blandishments of power can seduce those reputed pure and incorruptible. Farewell to hopes based upon the movements of "independent" Republicans.

THE MECKLENBURG CENTENNIAL.

Our Charlotte brethren of the Press are all working themselves to that pitch of enthusiasm which is essential to the success of their grand undertaking. This is right. They must first show the proper appreciation of the subject. Their zeal will inspire others, and kindle the State into a blaze. It is much to be not take this view of it that the subject merited. It is truly a North Carolina celebration in which the State, as such, should not have been unrepresented. But the success of the celebration is safe in the hands of the Mecklenburg people.

A COMPLIMENT FROM A VALUABLE SOURCE.

Virginia, the mother of Orators, has a keen appreciation of oratory. Her audiences listen to speeches with that critical acumen with which the frequenters of Parisian Theatre make or damn a player. A Virginia critic upon a speech may be taken as authority, for his cultivation makes him almost infallible.

We therefore attach a special value to the opinions of the Richmond Enquirer on the great speech of our gifted Senator Ransom. Hear what that journal says:

"A more elaborate or exhaustive argument could not have been made, while in beauty of style and elegance of diction it will compare favorably with the most celebrated orators that have been preserved to us either from ancient or modern time."

It is a great speech indeed, full of wonderful beauty of language and illustration, underlaid with a substratum of strong common sense. As well expressed by a gentleman of this city, "each graceful tendril winds around, while it conveys a rod of iron."

Some year or so ago we had the pleasure of hearing many of the sentiments expressed by the orator in this great speech, uttered in a more condensed, but scarcely less forcible form before an audience at the Salisbury Agricultural Fair. The audience was small, comparatively, and the speech was unpublished. We then, in commenting upon it, said that "it was a speech for a nation to hear."

Our wish is now realized. The nation is his audience, and the grand patriotic emotions, the generous sentiments, and the masterly intellect of M. W. Ransom have found that field which was the fit one for the orator.

Would that the North would give full belief to what we know to be true, that the sentiments of the speaker are sincere, and that they are shared in common by far the majority of the Southern people.

William Allen is the white-headed old boy who will be elected to continue the management of the Executive Department of Ohio.—Cleveland Plain Dealer (Dem.)

Photographs have been obtained in Paris four feet three inches long by three feet four inches in height.

The Norfolk Landmark comes to the front in its advocacy of the Mecklenburg Centennial. This cordial sympathy from our Virginia contemporary makes us feel that, in some instances at least, State lines are but shadowy barriers to fate at once before the common calls of brotherhood. Incensed as North Carolina is at the outrage under which she now smarts from the severance of her territorial integrity and the subversion of her internal policy, she does not say to Virginia "thou art an intruder" but looks beyond to a more distant and less disinterested agency.

While North Carolina retains the friendship of Virginia, as manifested through the Landmark, she will look with forgiving anger upon the deeds credited to Virginia, but for which Virginia is scarcely responsible.

The National Republican learns, by mail "of course," that the Klukus of Kentucky are again giving the people trouble. The "agents of the Associated Press are opposed to giving information that will expose the sins of the Democracy." This is rather far-fetched. The aforesaid agents stand upon such a peculiar elevation that they are known to view events with equal eye. They are not apt to furnish capital to either side based upon events founded in imagination. This last region is the one in which the Republican delights to dwell, and one essential to the existence of its party. The "mail" is a convenient medium for the unchecked imaginings of fanciful correspondents, and moreover gives the recipient of their favors the opportunity for extra embellishments. If the Republican confined itself to facts, its capital would soon be exhausted.

THE AMERICAN ARCHBISHOP.
HORSES AND MULES.
OAK WOOD FOR SALE.
FOR ENT.

The elevation of an American to one of the highest dignities in the Romish church—the bestowal of the Cardinal's hat upon Archbishop McClosky—is an appeal to American pride so flattering that it has absorbed in the thoughtless masses all those fears which have often possessed them at the rapid growth of that church on this continent, a growth which takes immense significance "for next to the appointment of the Bishop of Rome." The Cardinal stands highest among the potentates of the church, a very prince, invested with powers and privileges which rank him as among the great ones of the earth, with not only the consciences, the spiritual control, but as has been believed, with the political control of his flock at his disposal. And it is evidence of the vast growth of the Romish creed in this country that it demands the supervision of one of so high dignity as a Cardinal. Nevertheless an important fact might occur to the timid who dread the rapid growth of a dreaded denomination. The Romish church only keeps pace with the increase of population, no more nor less. Other denominations more than hold their own, and Protestantism is in no danger of losing any of its advantages. So long as the severance of church and State exists, so long will any particular denomination be harmless by special predominance.

Particulars and terms may be known on day of sale—SEATON GALES, Secretary.

Edgar A. Poe's memory is to be honored with a monument at last. The sum desired, $1,500, has been raised through the efforts of the Public School Teachers' Association of Baltimore, the work will be begun at once. The design is a pedestal of pure Italian marble, with a bust of Poe on one of the panels, and appropriate inscriptions and emblems on the other three. It is thought the monument will be ready for dedication within a few months.

One night last winter George M. Brown, a lawyer of McGregor, Iowa, got drunk and slept in a gutter. In the morning he was so badly frozen that both of his hands and one of his feet were amputated. Iowa has a civil damage law, which makes the liquid seller peculiarly liable for the keepers of his drink. Brown drank at six saloons that night, and his wife has sued the proprietor of each for fifteen thousand dollars.

There is great joy among the Republican journals on the passage of the Louisiana resolution by the Senate. The party is now harmonious, the cry, and the road to victory in 1856 is easy. Perhaps so, but there is a general impression abroad that it will require something more than a resolution to blot out the Administration's record on Louisiana affairs.

At Laneau, in Prussian Westphalia, the other day, some workmen got drunk and thought they would perpetrate a joke, and having partly disrobed him, bound him tightly in straw, which they had previously saturated with petroleum and tar. This they set on fire, and then nearly expired with laughter at the poor wretch's antics. He is dead now, and two of his persecutors are in jail awaiting trial for their brutality.

The recent rise in the price of gold which pinches the importers, disturbs values, and deranges markets, to the great detriment of our country, the cause of which may be due to the failure of the Forty-Third Congress to act upon the currency question. It is a natural result of the persistent neglect of Congress on this great national subject.—New York Sun.

It is said that Parson Brownlow, having become a Knoxville editor, has sold even dozen penholders and four quarts of ink. As it has been before him to custom to write with a red-hot pitchfork dipped in aqua-fortis, we should like to know what he is going to do with pen-holders and ink.—Louisville Courier Journal (Dem.)

THE BEST PHOSPHATE.—The best safeguard against epidemic disease is a thorough digestion and firm nerves. It is because we assume the responsibility of the care of the young, and invigorate the nervous system, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are such a sovereign remedy. They are a safe, simple, and efficacious preparation, containing a large proportion of the active principles, and invigorating the nervous system, and directly affect the stomach and bowels. If directly affected, as per the analysis, it is to be under the influence of this standard that the best phosphates should be had and if, in the absence of the most reliable of medical safeguards, the system has failed to respond to the treatment, then resorting to the Bitters will, if persisted in, eradicate every vestige of the malady. The Bitters are a safe, simple, and inexpensive preparation, with equal certainty to the operation of the potent vegetable alternative.

THE DAILY NEWS.

TUESDAY MARCH 31, 1875.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Charlotte is to be put in telegraphic communication with Shelby.

The Front street Methodist Church at Wilmington is having daily prayer meetings.

The Observer thinks the cotton receipts of Charlotte will foot up 50,000 bales this season.

Dr. L. Rosey has been conducting a meeting with much success at the Methodist Church in Wilson.

The Wilmington papers speak of a general holiday in that city on the 25th day, the occasion of the Mecklenburg Centennial.

The citizens of Pender county are endeavoring to locate their county seat. Strong inducements are offered to Ashton, on the line of the W. & W. R.

The Danbury Reporter has a new head. The head of the editor has been in use 80 years, and he expresses the hope that when that is renewed the new type will be bright, brilliant and glorious.

Two colored children were burned to death in Columbus county a few days ago. The mother and father were at work in a field some distance from the house, when it was burned, together with the children.

A woman has her Executive Committee to celebrate the Mecklenburg Centennial, of which Capt. James A. Graham is Chairman. Townships committees have been appointed for the whole county.

The Danbury Reporter says the crop prospects in that section is gloomy indeed, as not one in ten of the farmers has planted a crop of corn. Very little cotton has been sown, and many of the planters have given up the idea of making even a half crop of tobacco.

Two civil-righters ordered drinks at the bar of the Merchants' Club House in Goldsboro a few days since, well knowing that negroes had been refused accommodations there. They were told that the price of drinks ranged from 15 to 50 cents. They paid 15 cents each, and were promptly served. It so happened that the barrel containing "this quality of whiskey" was about exhausted, and only with difficulty could two glasses of "inky liquor," drops etc., be collected for the said civil-righters, who, apparently felt disappointed and disgruntled. It was evidently a "put up job," but failed to work. So says the Messenger.

So the Charlotte Southern Home reports up to date show a falling off in the crop of about 200,000 bales. We have a copy of the Liverpool Post of March 8th, which says that the "American crop is likely to prove some 400,000 or 500,000 bales less than proclaimed by many in December last." Those farmers, who have held on to their cotton, have received a better price this year than last. Several persons have told us that they had received 13 and 14 cents for stained cotton, which would only have brought 8 or 10 cents a year ago. The Peeler cotton has brought 16 cents lately in this market and a few days extra good quality of the ordinary kind of cotton has brought the same amount.

So the Charlotte Southern Home. The Committee of Invitation have invited Hon. John Kerr to deliver the Address on the 20th of May. He is a gifted and eloquent son of North Carolina, and will rise to the grandeur of the great occasion. To this Committee has been entrusted the right to invite distinguished speakers, and I am sure they will do all in their power to secure the best speakers.

Some simple folks in West Boylston, Mass., have just been "done" in a very contemptible way. Two well-dressed scamps found out the deaf people in town, and proposed to cure them for $50 to $100 each, according to their extremity, asking, of course, extra payment. Some paid $100 to $120, others were compensated with a wire contrivance which came over the top of the head and down behind the ears, and which they were to wear four hours a day for eight weeks, as it would keep up a current of electricity that would ultimately restore the functions of hearing entirely. The swindlers, of course, have gone, but some of the dupes are still wearing their foolish head gear.

On the wall over the bed of a dying woman in Cohoes, N. Y., a cross appeared, and grew larger and larger, deepened in color until the woman died, and then faded. She saw it, and superstitiously regarded it as a premonition of death. The neighborhood was intensely excited, and hundreds went to see the cross. At length a matter of fact newspaper reporter investigated, and learned that the death of the old lady was due to the plastering, the dislocation taking the significance of chance, and that when the rain storm was over, the cross faded. It is probable that frightened aggravated the woman's disease and killed her.

In England, they pay a good price for a seat in the Parliament and the renown of being "elected by the people." At the last general election, thirty-two successful candidates each paid on average $20,000 for their seats. They were the opponents simply on their financial strength; these latter gentlemen not being able to raise over $10,000 apiece. The members of the English Parliament receive no pay, and it is very likely that a good deal of well-covered stealing goes on.

The monument which the Union Pacific Railroad Company proposes to erect to Oakes Ames, is to be in the form of an enduring arch to span the road at Sherman, the summit of the line. Some very appropriate suggestions for an accompanying inscription on this arch might be found in the pictorial cartoons of the Credit Mobilier era. Ames with his little shovel, for instance, and Congressmen packing up their carts.—Atlanta Constitution.

Major Robert White, Jr., and Lieut. John K. Hall have gone to Charleston, S. C., with a generous contribution of money and articles for the proposed fair of the Washington Light Infantry of that city, together with a fine National flag as a present from the Massachusetts militia to that company.

In order to vitiate as far as possible the consequences of the civil marriage law, the Roman Catholic clergy of Bavaria exhort the parents of their flock to give a dowry to their daughter on her marriage only when the ceremony is afterward repeated before the Priest.

A girl screamed in a lecture audience in Lafayette, Oregon. Then all the other girls screamed. General consternation ensued, and a rush for the doors. People were bruised, clothes torn, and the room at length was emptied. The first screamer had seen a rat.
